

Pictish Cross Slab from Golspie

PICTISH SYMBOL STONE Found at Dunrobin, near the sea, in 1854.
This was one of three slabs
covering a long cist burial.
The grave contained two adult male skeletons.
DUNROBIN No.1

This side of the Golspie Pictish stone contains abstract symbols, a Pictish beast and a story. Note the hem of the tunic which could have been produced using tablet weaving. The stone is in Dunrobin Castle Museum.